FOREWORD

The Third Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the Organization of the Islamic Conference (COMCEC) and the First Meeting of the Ministers of Transport of the OIC Member States have been successfully completed with a remarkably high level of participation on the part of the Member States.

The Third Session, like the previous ones, undoubtedly owes its success to the Member States, the General Secretariat and the subsidiary and affiliated agencies of the OIC. Without their will to cooperate, arduous efforts towards increasing the quality and standard of the work carried out and indispensable contributions of expertise, it would have been impossible to conclude the Session with such success and to attain tangible results beneficial to all the Member Countries.

This book, which I have the honour of presenting, contains the Report and Resolution of the Third Session of the COMCEC.

The book consists of two main parts.

The first section contains basic reference documents, namely, the Resolutions adopted at the Third, Fourth and Fifth Islamic Summit Conferences regarding the establishment and functioning of the Standing Committee.

The second part is devoted to the Report and Resolution of the Third Session of the COMCEC. The Resolution adopted at the Third Session is an integrated one comprising a set of decisions aimed at strengthening cooperation in the areas of trade, industry and food security and agricultural development which was the subject matter of the First and Second Sessions of the COMCEC, together with those having implications on economic cooperation in general and some decisions pertaining to organizational matters.

The List of Participants, the Report of the Senior Officials Meetings, the Report of the Meeting of the Sessional Committee and statements made at the opening and closing sessions which include ideas related to the strategy to be followed in the area of economic cooperation among the Member States of OIC are attached as annexes to this book.

The other documents considered at the Third Session of the COMCEC, which are shown in the list contained in Section TV of Part. Two of this Book, are available through the COMCEC Coordination Office.

I am convinced that the Resolution adopted at the Third Session of the COMCEC will be implemented with determination by the Member States, the General Secretariat and the subsidiary and affiliated agencies of the OIC and that, this constitute the most reliable path towards peace and prosperity for our nations and for the world as a whole.

H.E. the President drew the attention of the delegates to a resolution adopted by the Fifth Islamic Summit which called for the gradual reduction of the level, and frequency of the ministerial meetings in various areas of economic cooperation which have overlapping implications with the COMCEC and for the incorporation of the inputs provided by such meetings into the overall work of the COMCEC. Referring to the rapid progress achieved by the COMCEC in the field of economic cooperation, Mr. Özal stated that the Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme established and became operational within the Islamic Development Bank, would be a helpful mechanism to increase intra-islamic trade which, in turn, would be a starting point of a wider range of cooperation. In concluding, the Prime Minister expressed his wishes of success to the delegates and a pleasant stay in Turkey.

Text of the speech of H.E. Turgut Özal is attached as Annex 3.

7. In his statement, H.E. S.S. Pirzada the Secretary General of the OTC, expressed his profound gratitude to H.E. Kenan Evren, President of the Republic of the Turkey and the Chairman of the COMCEC, and H.R. Turgut Özal, Prime Minister of the Republic of Turkey and the Alternate Chairman of the Pirzada referred to the convening of the meeting of the Ministers of Transport concurrently with the Third Session of the COMCRC as a step forward in the efforts to strengthen economic cooperation among the Member States. Apart from the Republic of Turkey as its permanent chairman, the agreed composition of the Bureau of the COMCEC to serve until the Fourth Session of the COMCEC was as follows:

Contributions of IDB and Member States were appreciated.

3. Activities in other international fora in the same vein, particularly those in the United Nations framework, should be followed closely and Member Countries should continue to highlight their views and contributions collectively in the relevant international fora on the critical situation in Africa.

4. In this context, the establishment, at the 20th Summit Meeting of the OAU in November 1984, of an Emergency Assistance Fund against the famine and drought in Africa was noted with satisfaction. Member States were invited to contribute to this cause either through this Fund or through other existing funds and programmes, or directly.

F. ASSISTANCE TO LEBANON

1. The Standing Committee reaffirmed its previous resolutions concerning the provision of financial and economic assistance to Lebanon, as well as providing markets for that country's products and commodities and granting it preferential treatment.

It called upon the Member States and relevant development and humanitarian institutions for emergency contribution to provide immediate and urgent assistance of a humanitarian character to Lebanon, and that such assistance should be directed towards the provision of food, medical supplies, scholarships and other urgently needed basic items.

2. The Follow-up Committee was requested to report, on the implementation of this resolution to the Fourth Meeting of the Standing Committee.

G. MEASURES TO SUPPORT PALESTINE

The Third Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference.

RECALLING all the resolutions adopted by Islamic Summits on the question of Palestine,

RECALLING the resolutions adopted at the two previous Sessions of the COMCEC on the economic and social conditions of the Palestinian people,

DECIDED:

1. a) to condemn the Zionist settlement policies, the confiscation of Palestinian lands, the building of settlements thereon, the takeover of water sources, as well as the laws and regulations, which brought about the deterioration of economic conditions, in general, and agricultural conditions, in particular;

- b) to condemn and denounce the Israeli policy and coercive practices towards al-Quds Electricity Company, by defining the areas that belong to the concession and subjecting it to Israeli laws as a first step towards expropriating this vital sector and annexing it to the institutions of the Zionist entity.

2. To provide all kinds of support and assistance to the Palestinian people in the occupied Palestinian territory to boost their resistance on their land and enable them to pursue their struggle, including:

- a) implementation of a Programme, for supporting the Palestinian people, in conjunction with the PLO with a view to:

providing job opportunities on a permanent basis for Palestinian workers and graduates in the occupied Palestinian territory through the initiation of productive projects, especially in the agricultural and industrial fields, establishing vocational and industrial training centres and institutes in the occupied Palestinian territory, financing economic and technical feasibility studies for productive projects in the occupied territories through the social and economic development institutions of the OIC.

- b) supporting the initiation of important and vital projects for the Palestinian people,
- c) giving a preferential treatment, to Palestinian products on Islamic markets and providing assistance for the establishment of a marketing centre for these products.

3. That every Member State of the OIC is requested to decide the form and volume of assistance to be extended as a contribution to the implementation of the present resolution, in conjunction with the PLO.

4. Requests the Follow-up Committee to report to the COMCEC on the progress achieved on the implementation of the present resolution.

H. ORGANIZATIONAL MATTERS

In pursuance of the agreement reached at the Second Session of the COMCEC to keep the Members of the Bureau unchanged until the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference, it was agreed that the question of the election of the Bureau should not be tackled before various aspects of the question and its implications were carefully studied.

It was agreed to include the country whose Head of State assumes the sessional chairmanship of the Islamic Summit Conference as a regular member of the Bureau of the COMCEC. Accordingly, the State of Kuwait was included in the Bureau of the COMCEC, with consensus, to serve as the fifth Vice-Chairman until the Sixth Islamic Summit Conference.

The COMCEC assigned the Follow-up Committee with the task of studying the matter together with the role to be given to the Follow-up Committee in a longer perspective on the basis of a background paper to be prepared by the COMCRC Coordination Office. In carrying out this task, the Follow-up Committee was urged to bear in mind the importance of the continuity of the follow-up activity. The Follow-up Committee was requested to examine various aspects of the issue and its implications for the follow-up mechanism established by the COMCEC, and to submit feasible alternatives for the renewal of the members of the Bureau to the Fourth Session of the COMCEC.

INAUGURAL, STATEMENT BY H.E. KENAN EVREN
PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF TURKEY
CHAIRMAN OF THE COMCEC
AT THE THIRD SESSION OF THE COMCRC
(Istanbul, 7 September 1987)

Excellencies,

Honourable Delegates,

Distinguished Guests,

It is a pleasure for me to inaugurate this Third Session of the COMCEC in my capacity as its Chairman.

I would like to express my pleasure in seeing you all in Turkey once again. I am confident that the work you will undertake during the next few days will constitute another significant contribution to the promotion of economic cooperation and solidarity among the Member States.

Distinguished Delegates,

Since its First Session in November 1984, the COMCEC has established itself as one of the important fora of the Organization of the Islamic Conference. During a period of less than three years, the COMCEC has achieved considerable progress in the field of economic cooperation among the Member States, thanks to the effectiveness of the strategy and pertinence of the decisions you have adopted in this forum. Here, I would like to extend my appreciation and thanks to the Member States and to the subsidiary and affiliated organs of the Organization of the Islamic Conference for their most sincere willingness to cooperate and for the invaluable assistance that they are extending to the COMCEC in carrying out activities pertaining to economic cooperation.

Positive results of our work have begun to come out in a short time with the concrete progress achieved, especially in the field of commercial cooperation. The draft agenda of the present session contains items which reflect this progress.

The Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme established within the Islamic Development Bank is the most remarkable example of this progress.

It is a source of great satisfaction to see that the scheme is now fully operational with 10 countries having paid the first instalment of their commitments. I am confident that positive repercussions of the operation of this scheme will soon be seen on the volume of trade among our countries.

I have no doubt that other projects of economic cooperation pertaining to areas indicated in the Plan of Action will be implemented with similar efficiency with your continued support.

Distinguished Delegates,

The Fifth Islamic Summit Conference held in Kuwait last January was the first occasion during which initiatives undertaken by the COMCEC were evaluated thoroughly by the highest decision-making body of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference.

A detailed Progress Report on the activities carried out by the COMCRC since its first session in November 1984, was presented to the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference. In addition to that, in the statement which I made during the Summit, I summarized the strategy of economic cooperation we have adopted and the measures we have taken regarding the organization of our work.

It is a pleasure for me to state that the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference has fully endorsed our decisions and commended the rapid progress achieved in the field of economic cooperation under the auspices of the COMCEC.

However, we should not content ourselves with what we have already achieved, but. should constantly seek for improvements in the efficiency of our work.

Tn this connection, I would like to draw your attention to one of the three resolutions adopted at the Fifth Summit entitled "Resolution on the Conduct of Activities of the COMCEC". This resolution calls for, among others, the gradual reduction of the frequency and the level of the Ministerial meetings in various areas of economic cooperation which have overlapping implications with the COMCEC, and the incorporation of the inputs provided by such meetings into the overall work of the COMCEC.

The implementation of this resolution may require the reassessment of the present practice and procedures which we have agreed on regarding the coordination and follow up of economic cooperation activities going on within the OIC.

I am sure that you will adopt the necessary measures to properly accommodate the requirements of the Summit decision.

Honourable Delegates,

Distinguished Guests,

Transport is another priority area of the Plan of Action in which the first ministerial level meeting is being held concurrently with this session of the COMCEC. Initially, the present session of the COMCRC was scheduled to be held concurrently with the meeting of the Ministers of Transport and Communications. But, upon the suggestion of the Third Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCRC, I was led to the conclusion that these two subjects were too comprehensive for one single meeting and decided to confine the meeting to issues related to transportation only. This decision is also in conformity with the COMCEC's strategy to cover only as many areas as could be covered at a time.

Distinguished Delegates,

As you may have noticed, the work program of the present meeting varies substantially from the previous ones. During the meeting the Heads of Delegations will be provided with an opportunity to conduct general debate while their senior officials will be discussing agenda items. This new model was introduced in order to serve several purposes :

First of all, I thought that it would be useful to give the ministers an opportunity to conduct bilateral or multilateral talks on the sideline of the meeting without putting them under time pressure in relation to the agenda items.

Secondly, the Heads of delegations are invited to present in their general statements the experience of their respective countries in the fields covered by the agenda items. This measure is introduced in order to allow the member countries to benefit from the experience of the other brotherly member countries. I thought that member countries are likely to benefit, much more from the experience of brotherly member countries than from the experience of countries with whom they have very little in common. These valuable statements will be translated into 3 official languages, printed and circulated to the member countries shortly after the meeting.

Thirdly, the heads of delegations are invited to make suggestions for possible new areas of economic cooperation. After the meeting I will ask the Follow-up Committee to sort them out and try to translate these suggestions into concrete cooperation projects.

Priority will be given to those projects which may be implemented in a shorter span of time and with minimum additional cost.

I believe that the sessions of general debate may be transformed in future into an important forum where world economic and financial issues are discussed and where views and attitudes of the OIC member countries on these issues are harmonized.

I will assess the advantages and inconveniences of this model in the light of the experience of the present meeting and determine whether it should be maintained, abandoned or improved.

I am confident that the attainment of a satisfactory level of economic cooperation among the Member States would lead, through concerted action, to their playing a significant role in world economy and would increase their negotiating powers in related international fora.

In concluding, I would like to express my hope that this Session of the Standing Committee will lead to the achievement of further concrete results and give direction to our subsequent efforts. I wish you every success in your important work.

SPRECH DELIVERED BY H.E. TURGUT ÖZAL
PRIME MINISTER OF THE REPUBLIC OF TURKRY
AND ALTERNATE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMCEC
AT THE OPENING CEREMONY

(Istanbul, 7 September 1987)

Your Excellency the President of the Republic of Turkey,

Your Excellency the Secretary General of the Organization of the Islamic Conference,

Honourable delegates,

Distinguished guests,

On behalf of the Turkish Government I welcome you to the Third Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the Organization of the Islamic Conference. The Government of Turkey is pleased to host, here in Istanbul, this very important meeting. I hope that the arrangements are satisfactory and that you will enjoy your stay in Turkey.

Distinguished delegates,

We are aware that the international economic environment has not sufficiently improved since the 1982 recession which was the deepest in the post-war era. What is qualified as economic recovery in the western industrial world is in fact slow-growth as compared with the 70's and 60's.

Under these conditions, international trade has stagnated, protectionist measures have multiplied, terms-of-trade for the export commodities of developing countries have declined to the lowest level of the last half of the century. The markets of industrial countries have lost their growth potential. These developments have had adverse effects on the exports of developing countries.

It is therefore not surprising that the international debt problem has been further aggravated, despite the fact that a growth-oriented debt strategy has been initiated two years ago. Developing debtor countries not only suffer from the lack of adequate resources transfer within the strategy, but. at the same time their export earnings do not increase enough to meet their debt service requirements.

The international community has high hopes in the recently initiated multilateral trade negotiations at GATT, which is called 'the Uruguay Round'. It is obvious however that the outcome of these negotiations will take a long time.

One has to take into account, on the other hand, the growing imbalances in international trade, the fluctuating exchange rates and the high real interest rates.

This state of affairs creates major uncertainties concerning global economic prospects and, as such, is not conducive to the establishment of a stable world economic growth.

Under these circumstances, the strengthening of economic cooperation among Muslim countries is of the highest priority and utmost importance to all of us.

Fostering economic cooperation in the Muslim World should not be viewed as substituting our relations with the rest of the world or regarded even as weakening them, nor should it be considered merely as a supplementary contribution to our development efforts. In reality, increased cooperation among ourselves will greatly facilitate our economic relations with the rest of the world on a sounder and more equitable basis. It will enrich these relations by creating new opportunities for business between us, thus rendering them truly multi-dimensional.

As you may know, Turkey recently applied to the European Economic Community for full membership. This is the ultimate objective of the Ankara Agreement signed in 1963. In our efforts to move towards this objective, we are deeply conscious of our national identity and history. Being a country which has strong ties both with Europe and the Muslim world, Turkey will be able to serve in the full sense of the word, as a bridge between the two sides and play a positive role to enhance mutual understanding. Its membership in the COMCEC will definitely facilitate this role.

Excellencies,

Honourable delegates,

I am happy to say that the economic cooperation activities which are being carried out within the framework of the COMCEC since the First Session of the Standing Committee have been quite successful. We are fully conscious of the slow but steady pace of multilateral cooperation. I am confident that the present successful performance will continue in the future, thanks to the cooperation of the member states, the General Secretariat of the Islamic Conference, the subsidiary and affiliated organs of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference and other international institutions, and produce tangible results to the benefit of the member states.

Our common history, cultural heritage and shared creed are invaluable assets for an ever-increasing cooperation. Our peoples inspired by the same faith and tradition have a deep dislike for political enmity among themselves. We can combine our cultural unity and our desire for economic cooperation to transcend our political differences. History shows that increased economic ties between nations ultimately reduce political conflicts by bringing into play forces of peace and mutual understanding. The Muslim Community surely deserves peace and prosperity. We hope and pray for this.

In this context, we propose what I call the peace pipeline or pipelines which will, carry water from the two rivers in the southern part of Turkey to the Arabian Peninsula. We believe that this project is feasible, it will not only add to the existing economic relations, but also create new and strong ties of common interest, the preservation of which will contribute to peace in the region.

Several complementarities do exist among the member states of the OIC for achieving closer economic cooperation, as this example amply demonstrates. In this context, let me cite among venues for wider cooperation; building new gas and oil pipelines to enlarge the present network, perfecting a tele-communication system, using the benefits of modern technology, constructing inter-state motorways and railways, and most important, taking the necessary measures to boost tourism among our countries, which will create mutual understanding and knowledge to further intensify commercial and human relations. This potential needs to be tapped and channeled into a dynamic cooperation. We consider this as a primary target for the COMCEC.

The strategy for economic cooperation followed by the COMCRC has already begun to yield its fruits. The Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme which has now become operational within the Islamic Development Bank, with ten countries having paid the first instalment of their commitments, will be an effective mechanism to increase intra-islamic trade. I sincerely hope that other mechanisms will follow, and increasing trade among OIC countries will be a stepping stone for a wider range of cooperation. The fostering of cooperation will undoubtedly boost our economic growth, reduce our dependence and offset the adverse effects of global economic difficulties.

I am confident that with your valuable contributions this session of the COMCEC will be another success in economic cooperation, and will lead to positive results for the entire Islamic World.

Before concluding, I wish you all success in your important task and a very pleasant stay in Turkey.

STATEMENT BY H.E. SYED SHARIFUDDIN PIRZADA, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE ISLAMIC CONFERENCE, AT THE THIRD SESSION OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE
FOR ECONOMIC AND COMMERCIAL COOPERATION

(Istanbul, 7 September 1987)

Mr. President, Mr. Prime Minister, Distinguished Ministers,
Excellencies, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is indeed a great honour and privilege for me to be present at this joint opening of the Third Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation and the First Meeting of the Ministers of Transport of the Organization of the Islamic Conference and to address this august gathering which has been designated as the main policy making forum for promoting economic and commercial cooperation and progress in the Islamic world.

I would like to express profound gratitude to H.E. President Kenan Evren, the Chairman of the Standing Committee, and H.E. Mr. Turgut Özal, the Prime Minister and Alternate Chairman, for their continued personal and abiding interest in the implementation of the OIC Plan of Action to strengthen Economic Cooperation and for their commitment to the socio-economic progress of the Islamic States. The inaugural address by H.E. President Kenan Evren and the statement by H.E. Turgut Özal bear testimony to their resolve to further strengthen the economic and commercial ties amongst the OIC Member States. I am confident that their illuminating addresses will serve to guide the deliberations of the Standing Committee as well as the Ministerial meeting on Transport and Communications.

Mr. Chairman,

We are no strangers to this beautiful and historic city of Istanbul, which has already hosted many Important meetings, particularly the First and the Second Sessions of COMCEC. We are moved once again by the warm welcome and traditional hospitality so graciously extended to the delegates by the Government and the people of Turkey. I would like to express appreciation and thanks for the excellent arrangements made for these two important conferences.

Mr. Chairman,

The Third Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation takes place against the backdrop of the serious and continuing consequences of the unjust world economic system where the levers of power are firmly in the hands of a few industrialized countries and are often used to the detriment of the interests of the developing world, to which the Islamic countries belong. The developed countries continue to adopt retrogressive policies and practices which run counter to the goals and objectives of the New International Economic Order. The North-South dialogue has been stalemated for a number of years. The weak and the vulnerable economies of the developing countries have to operate under an international economic system which is intrinsically unjust and have also been exposed to the vagaries of the international economic climate. This has resulted in the stunting of their growth and in increasing the gap between the developed and the developing world. The international economic situation is marked by decreasing international cooperation, a crushing debt burden, adverse terms of trade, reduced aid flows and rising walls of protectionism. Global production has declined, commodity prices continue to fall while the cost of manufactured goods imported by the developing countries continues to rise. The problems in the field of money, finance, trade, and aid have assumed a gravity which demands urgent remedial measures. These measures must include the revival of the dialogue between North and South on the one hand and increased economic cooperation between the countries of the South themselves, on the other.

Mr. Chairman,

There has been no major change in the problems faced by member countries of the OIC in achieving socio-economic development since the last session of the Standing Committee. The recovery in the global economy, which bypassed a large number of OIC Member countries, has remained more or less irrelevant to the development process within the Islamic States. There was a marked slowdown in global output and trade in 1986 and this trend is persisting in 1987. The Member States of the OIC are heavily dependent on market outlets in the western industrial economies for most of their exports and imports. Sharp declines in the prices of primary commodities, minerals and fuels have seriously reduced the export revenues of the member countries. These, coupled with the deterioration in terms of trade, rising debt burden and reduced flow of external resources have led to severe cutbacks in imports and shelving of many development programmes and projects in the members of the Organisation. The drastic fall in oil prices adversely affected the socio-economic progress among the oil-producing members of the OIC and also diminished their capacity to assist their less fortunate brethren of the Ummah.

Mr. Chairman,

In these circumstances it is essential that, the member states of the OIC, while seeking to reinvigorate the negotiations with the North, should undertake concerted initiatives to direct their economies to the path of self-sustained and self-generating economic growth and self-sufficiency. This would enable them to achieve reasonable rates of growth, alleviate the conditions of their poor and toiling masses and provide them the countervailing strength for negotiations with the industrialized world from a position of relative equality.

Mr. Chairman,

The Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation has, since its inception, in pursuance of the decision of the Third Islamic Summit, played an effective role in strengthening and expanding cooperation and collaboration among the Member States of the OIC in the economic and commercial fields. COMCEC has focused its activities on the implementation of the OIC Plan of Action to strengthen economic cooperation among the Member States. The two sessions of the COMCEC held in November 1984 and March 1986 have achieved encouraging success in translating the broad outlines of the Plan of Action into concrete programmes and projects of mutual cooperation and have encouraged the Member States to adopt measures to boost their economic and commercial exchanges. It is essential that the Islamic countries, notwithstanding differences in their economic structures, financial means or manpower availability, continue to work with firm resolve to promote economic cooperation among themselves, increase their commercial exchanges and help each other economically in order to ultimately achieve a level of economic strength which would free their economies from being vulnerable to the vagaries of the international economic climate.

Mr. Chairman,

The OIC member countries are blessed by the Almighty Allah with a variety of resources, human and natural which still remain to be exploited to the benefit of the Islamic Ummah. The scope for cooperation among the member states both in economic and technical fields are enormous. Despite progress achieved during the recent past, intra-OIC trade is only 10 per cent of the total trade of the member states.

This calls for intensified efforts on the part of member states, including a firm political commitment, to increase economic, commercial and technical cooperation.

The Standing Committee on Economic and Commercial Cooperation has already approved a number of measures to promote these desired goals. I am confident that the Member States will continue to support, in full measure, the recommendations of the Standing Committee as well as other Islamic Organisations and Centres working under the umbrella of the OTC for the implementation of the Plan of Action.

Mr. Chairman,

The Fifth Islamic Summit held in Kuwait in January this year adopted several important decisions which are expected to lend impetus to the activities of the COMCEC. The Summit approved measures for increasing the volume and quantum of economic and commercial exchanges among Member States. The Fifth Islamic Summit had expressed particular satisfaction over the valuable efforts exerted by the Islamic Development Bank for the creation of the Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme aimed at the promotion of non-traditional exports among Member States of the OIC. The Summit had also called upon the Member States to complete the necessary formalities pertaining to their participation in the Scheme. I therefore urge the Member States to contribute to the capital of the TOR so as to enable it to strengthen its role for the overall economic benefit of the Ummah. The multilateral Islamic Clearing Union and the Export Guarantee Scheme are also important in the context of efforts to expand commercial contacts. Similarly, the adoption of a Trade Preferential System among the member countries of the OIC is expected to facilitate a significant breakthrough in expanding commercial cooperation among the OIC Members. The establishment and effective functioning of a Trade Information Network will in a similar manner be very helpful in the realization of this objective.

Mr. Chairman,

The Third Session of the COMCEC is being held concurrently with the first meeting of the Ministers of Transport and Communications of the OIC Member States. The convening of the meeting of the Ministers of Transport and Communications constitutes a step forward in the efforts to augment cooperation among the OIC States in view of the crucial importance of the development of transport and communications for increasing the volume of trade as well as progress in other economic and information sectors.

The weakness of the transport and communications infrastructure within the member states has been an obstacle impeding the socio-economic development within the OTC countries. The Fifth Islamic Summit called for speedy implementation of measures to strengthen coordination and cooperation in the field of shipping, air transport» telecommunications, meteorology and postal services, thus underlining the need for urgent action to rectify the situation. Meanwhile the Ankara Centre, as a part of its regular programme of work, has undertaken three studies in the field of transport and communications, all of which are being submitted to the Ministerial Meeting on Transport and Communications.

Mr. Chairman,

We feel gratified that steady progress has been initiated in the areas of transport and communications since the second Session of the COMCEC. The Islamic Shipowners Association has become operational. The Executive Committee of the Association has just concluded its first meeting in Istanbul. Similarly, the Statute of the Islamic Civil Aviation Council which was approved in 1982 is now open for signature and ratification by the Member States. The Statute of the Islamic Telecommunications Union was approved by the Fifteenth Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers in 1984. These two Associations however cannot become operational unless their statutes are signed and ratified by the Member-States. I would urge upon the Honorable Ministers to impress upon their respective Governments the need for early signature and ratification in order to enable these important organs to commence their activities for the benefit of the Islamic Ummah.

I am confident that inspired by the spirit of the Islamic brotherhood and solidarity and in view of their maturity of thought and outlook and their ability, the Ministers will evolve practical measures to accelerate the pace of mutually beneficial cooperation and collaboration among the Islamic States, in the sector of transport and communication.

Mr. Chairman,

In conclusion, I would like to thank you once again for giving me this opportunity to address this august gathering. May Allah the Almighty bless our endeavours.

I thank you.

5. The Director of the SESRTCIC Dr. Sadi Cindoruk, at the outset of his report, pointed out that the chronic problem of finance, which had been affecting all of the OIC organs and institutions including the General Secretariat, has reached crisis proportions during the past year so that salary payments to staff were delayed for months and committed programmes were postponed and even cancelled. He reported that, despite such difficulties, the collection, processing and dissemination of socio-economic information and statistics continued and expanded at the Centre, thanks to the full computerization of activities, through a set of data banks developed and maintained by the Centre, making it the store-house of information on and for the OIC Community. The Director mentioned that the Centre's wide-ranging research programme also continued to supply technical background documents to a large number of OIC fora, including the COMCEC, and provide the OIC community with several studies on a number of subjects related to strengthening and expanding of economic cooperation. This programme also supported the Centre's ever-expanding publications, comprising several periodicals as well as basic reference volumes in the form of directories, legislation series, etc. The Director concluded his report by informing the Meeting that the Centre had been designated as the focal point for the OTC system in the area of technical cooperation within the framework of the UN-OIC Cooperation. He added that three training programmes, one of them a high-level seminar on coordination of regional monetary policy, was organized by the Centre during the past year, jointly with a view to facilitating an exchange of information and experiences among the muslim experts and officials, on the one hand, and imparting training on the relatively junior bureaucrats, technocrats and businessmen in selected technical subjects, on the other.

Dr. Driss Alawi M'daghri, the Director of ICDDT, in this report. to the Meeting, mentioned that detailed progress reports on their activities related to the establishment of a Trade Information Network and a Trade Preferential System within the OIC were already presented to the full Committee under separate agenda items. He reported that the Centre was collecting and analysing trade information at its Documentation Centre and was disseminating such information through its bimonthly magazine. In the area of studies, the Director mentioned that they prepared an annual report on OTC foreign trade and two directories related to trade promotion organization and trade training institutions in the OTC Member Countries. He went on to say that they had organised the Second Islamic Trade Fair in Morocco in April 1986, jointly with the host country authorities, and that work was in progress to hold the Third and Fourth Fairs in Egypt and Tunisia, respectively. Dr. Alawi M'daghri also mentioned that in the area of training they organised a seminar on counter-trade and two training seminars. He closed by informing the Meeting that the Centre had been designated as the OTC focal point on matters related to trade, and requested that effective action should be taken by the COMCFC to solve the financial problems.

7. Dr. Ali Kettani, the Director General of IFSTAD in his report pointed out that their activities are complementary to those of the COMCEC, as the IFSTAD executes its programmes as well as the Action Plan of the COMSTECH in the area of Science and Technology. He informed the Meeting that they have published directories on research institutions, universities and muslim experts, on the one hand, while started to establish a Science and Technology Network, on the other. He mentioned that their data base of muslim experts in and outside of the OIC Member Countries was made available to help meet the needs in the latter in the field of consultancy, but that financing was needed to make an effective use of this facility. Dr. Kettani also reported that IFSTAD has established the Islamic Academy of Sciences, was in the process of establishing a series of Inter-Islamic Networks and have organised the first meeting of the Federation of Research Institutions of Muslim Countries, all of which aim to promote and expand cooperation in the field of research within the Islamic World. He added that their scholarship programme presently supported 250 scholars in different fields of science and technology, while they continued also to organize short training courses of their own.

8. The report on the activities of the ICTVTR was presented to the Meeting by its Director Dr. A.M. Patwari, who gave an account of the Centre's short training courses, regular courses, instructor training courses and trade certificate courses in several areas that had been held from 1.985 and announced for the current academic year. He mentioned that, the short country and international courses were successfully completed in collaboration with several firms from various Member Countries which were operating in these particular areas. The Director informed the Meeting that the Centre would hold three short courses in different subjects during the next three months as a part of the Centre's programme on technical cooperation and industrial training. He went on to report that the Centre had been carrying out research projects on four different subjects, and has scheduled an international seminar on technical and vocational education in early 1988. The Director, in closing, urged for an appeal to be made to the Member States to clear the accumulated arrears in their contributions to the Centre's budget.

9. Dr. Ashraf-uz-Zaman, the representative of the I.A.I.B, in his report to the Meeting, said that the Association was coordinating the activities of the Islamic banks and financial institutions in the private sector number 50 in over 20 countries. He said that the Association provided technical assistance to Islamic banks, organised and took part in Seminars, symposia and conferences on Islamic economics and banking, organised training programmes in Islamic banking, assisted in the establishment of new Islamic banks, and undertook studies and research in Islamic banking and related fields. Dr. Zaman mentioned that the Association collaborated closely with the Central Banks and Monetary Authorities of the Islamic countries, as well as with the Ankara Centre and the IDB. It continued to collect fatwas from different Islamic banks and helped with the exchange of information among Member banks on various subjects of common interest.

10. In the report, of the ICCICE studied by the Meeting, information was given on the recently held Meeting for the Promotion of Investment Among Islamic Countries, which was organised by the Islamic Chamber, INIDO and the Union of Chambers of Commerce of Turkey. It was pointed out. that the meeting aimed to mobilize the resources available within Selected Advanced Developed Islamic Countries for a better channelling of investment in Selected Less Developed Islamic Countries. 110 project. proposals from 8 Less Developed Islamic Countries amounting US $ 720 million was presented to the Meeting. It was reported that the sponsors of the Meeting were asked to undertake the necessary follow-up action.

11. The Sessional Committee deliberated upon the reports presented above and,

1. Appreciated the activities of the various OIC subsidiary organs and affiliated institutions in the area of economic, commercial and technical cooperation which were in conjunction with and complementary to the COMCEC activities.

Recommended that: the Member States be urged to respond to the announcements on the activities of the OIC bodies sent to them, and participate in these activities,

3. Recommended that the Member States be urged to take all the necessary measures so that the budgetary contributions to the OIC institution be promptly paid and arrears cleared as soon as possible, so that the commendable work done by these institutions could continue uninterrupted.

OF THE THIRD MEETING OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE
FOR ECONOMIC AND COMMERCIAL COOPERATION
PRESENTED BY H.E. TAN SRI ABDUL RAHMAN JALAL

(Istanbul, 10 September 1987)

In the Name of Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate

Mr, Chairman,

It is again an honour for me to address the concluding session of the Third Meeting of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation and the First Ministerial Conference on Transport.

2. At the very outset I would like to express our deep gratitude and thanks to His Excellency President Kenan Evren, the Chairman of the COMCEC for his personal attention and keen interest in the work of the Standing Committee, which has under his able guidance and wise leadership become the guiding force for the economic activities of our Organization.

3. President Kenan Evren's inaugural address contained candid analysis of the positive results achieved since the formation of the COMCEC and its various activities pertaining to the economic and commercial cooperation within the Islamic World. At the same time, Prime Minister Turgut özal's speech summarised the depressing global economic situation and its adverse effect on the economies of the Member States and emphasized the utmost importance of closer economic cooperation among the OIC Member States.

Mr. Chairman,

I wholeheartedly share and uphold the views expressed by President Kenan Evren and Prime Minister Turgut özal on the necessity to forge mutually beneficial collaboration and cooperation in economic fields among the OIC Member States. We have had very fruitful and satisfying discussions during the past several days both at the level of Senior Officials and Ministers. The deliberations during these meetings were characterized by a high degree of pragmatism, seriousness of purpose, a positive outlook as well as a genuine and sincere desire to evolve practical and feasible measures to carry forward the process of joint action in key areas of economic activities such as investment, trade information and preferential system, multilateral clearing union and export credit guarantee scheme and also in spheres of transport and communications .

Mr. Chairman,

The results of these meetings are due to the valuable contributions by the delegations, the guidance provided by the members of the Bureau, the studies and documents presented by the Member States, the OIC specialised agencies and the Islamic Development Bank. I would like to express our gratitude to these organisations for their valuable contributions to the success of our meetings.

Mr. Chairman,

A review of the deliberations during the past few days indicates significant progress in the implementation of the Plan of Action to strengthen economic cooperation in a number of sectors which include among others, Export Credit Guarantee Scheme, Multilateral Clearing Union, Trade Preferential System, Trade Information Network etc. Together with these, the creation of the Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme, makes us optimistic about the eventual realisation of our ultimate goal regarding the establishment of an Islamic Common Market .

Mr. Chairman,

I am also happy to note that this Session of the COMCEC was concurrently held with the first ever Meeting of the Ministers of Transport of the OIC Member States. The Report, and Recommendations of the Transport Ministers clearly set out the practical measures which are intended to be pursued in this vitally important sector of economic activity. I am sure, the measures of cooperation in the fields of Maritime, road transportation and railway which have been considered by the Ministers of Transport will produce far reaching results as far as our economic collaboration and solidarity is concerned.

Mr. Chairman,

I would like to assure you, on behalf of the General Secretariat of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference and on my own behalf, of our full cooperation in the implementation of the recommendations adopted by the Third Session of the COMCEC. The General Secretariat shall also exert its utmost efforts to help implement the recommendations approved by the First Ministerial Conference on Transport and Communications. I may add here that the deliberation during the Meetings have enriched our experience, and the suggestions made and the reactions of the distinguished delegates will be borne in mind for future course of action and in the method of working in subsequent sessions.

Mr. Chairman,

In conclusion, I would once again like to express, on behalf of the General Secretariat of the Organization of Islamic Conference and OIC institutions, our profound gratitude and appreciation to President Kenan Evren and Prime Minister Turgut Özal for their valuable contributions to the success of these meetings and to the Government and the people of Turkey for their brotherly welcome and generous hospitality extended to us all. May Allah bless us in our efforts to serve the Islamic Ummah.

I thank you.

PRIME MINISTER OF THE REPUBLIC OF TURKEY
AT THE CLOSING SRSSION OF THE THIRD SESSION OF THE COMCEC

(Istanbul, 10 September 1987)

Your Excellency the President of the Republic,
Excellencies,
Distinguished Guests,

At the closing of this important meeting I wish to congratulate all of you for the tireless efforts and valuable contributions you made for the success of this gathering.

I would also like to express how satisfied I am to see the steady progress in the cooperation among the Member Countries of the Organization of the Islamic Conference.

I would be fair to say that without the support of the General Secretarial this meeting would not have accomplished the task set for it. Financial constraints did not prevent the Secretariat from making every effort to fulfil its important responsibilities.

I assure you that my Government will, continue to lend to the Secretariat financial, material and moral support. We consider a strong and efficient Secretariat as an essential, precondition to the success of our endeavors towards enhancing the solidarity of the Islamic community.

Your Excellency Mr. President,
Excellencies,
Distinguished Delegates,

During this session of COMCEC which comes to an end today, we covered another important area of economic cooperation, namely transport. Without adequate transport, links, relations between our countries will continue to remain at a low level. The cooperation projects which will be implemented as a result, of the decisions adopted during the present meeting of the Ministers of Transport cannot of course bear fruit immediately. What was achieved during the meeting is only a beginning. The Ministers of Transport began to broadly define the areas of cooperation. Projects will take shape at Expert Meetings and through the hard work of the General Secretariat and related organs of the OIC.

The Meeting of the Ministers of Transport will hopefully initiate and facilitate contacts between the business circles of our countries and our peoples.

Distinguished Guests,

In view of the fierce competition and protectionism prevailing in international economic relations on the one hand and the relatively weak position of most of the Member Countries of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference on the other, a concerted action may help them to achieve much more than what they can achieve by acting individually.

COMCEC took a big step forward in the field of commercial cooperation among Member Countries. It deliberated on a Declaration on the establishment of a Preferential Trade System. Once realized, it will constitute a major breakthrough in promoting trade among the Member Countries. Tariff preferences is a continuous process the concrete results of which may begin to come about few years after first concessions are exchanged.

The fairly rapid progress achieved so far in the field of economic cooperation makes me optimistic as to what may be achieved in the future if potentialities in this area are fully mobilized.

Within a period of less than three years an important scheme on Longer Terra Trade Financing Facility was conceived, designed, programmed and implemented. Such a rapid progress may be considered quite exceptional in the history of international economic cooperation involving as many as 45 countries with different economic and social characteristics.

The progress achieved in the establishment of a multilateral Islamic Clearing Union and a Regional Export Credit Guarantee Scheme is also promising.

In the future we will, try to focus our efforts on areas where potentials exist for cooperation beneficial to parties.

Your Excellency Mr. President.,
Distinguished Delegates,

During the present meeting we wanted to allocate more time to the distinguished ministers to explain their respective experiences in the field of economic development. They also had the opportunity to conduct bilateral contacts with their counterparts. We believe that such contacts will lend to positive results that can foster their relations.

It is obvious that dialogue among the members of the organization of Islamic Conference is of outstanding importance. The forums where such dialogues may be carried out are not so numerous.

I hope that this meeting has been useful both for what we have achieved within the framework of our agenda and bilateral contacts carried out at the margin of the meetings.

Distinguished Delegates,

I would like to thank once more all Ministers, Head of Delegations and Members of Delegations for the valuable work they have done. I would also like to reiterate most sincere and brotherly greetings of my Government to your Governments. I hope that your stay in Turkey was pleasant and I wish all of you a happy journey back to your countries.

CLOSING SPRCH BY H.E. KENAN EVREN
PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF TURKEY,
CHAIRMAN OF THE COMCEC

(Istanbul, 10 September 1987)

Distinguished Delegates,

Esteemed Guests,

We have come to the end of another important Session of the COMCEC. I would like to begin my closing speech by expressing my thanks to all distinguished delegates for their valuable contributions to the success of this meeting.

I would also like to thank the General Secretariat for its valuable and indispensable support to the work of the present meeting both at preparatory and final stages. Without the valuable support of the General Secretariat this meeting could not have achieved what it has now achieved.

I would like to thank in your presence the subsidiary organs of the Organization of the Islamic Conference most directly related with the work of the COMCEC, namely the Ankara and Casablanca Centres, for their very concrete contribution to the achievements of the COMCEC. They provided this contribution despite extreme financial constraints that, they are faced with.

This is an indication of how better performance we may expect from them if they are given more appropriate means to function more efficiently.

The Islamic Development Bank deserves special praise and thanks for the concrete results that it has achieved in the implementation of projects initiated by the COMCEC.

Distinguished Delegates,

You have noticed that the rules which you introduced during two previous meetings of the COMCEC and which were fully endorsed by the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference are functioning smoothly. We will continue to improve our rules and procedures by benefiting from our own experience and in order to accommodate changing needs of our community.

Distinguished Delegates,

Now, I would like to say a few words regarding the future strategy of the cooperation activities to be conducted under the COMCEC umbrella.

The expansion of the scope of activity of the COMCEC by the inclusion, each passing year-, of the inputs provided by the ministerial level meetings in various areas of economic cooperation transforms the COMCEC into a body with more substance in it, but demands at the same time more careful study for the coordination of the activities and selection of priorities.

The task you have assigned during the present meeting to the Follow-up Committee in order to study all aspects of the follow-up mechanisms of the COMCEC framework becomes all the more important for this reason. I am confident that the Follow-up Committee, with its customary wisdom, will develop and suggest to our next meeting mechanisms which will suit best, the continuously developing requirements of our community.

Distinguished Delegates,

I believe that it will not be proper to ask ministers to conduct discussions on highly technical questions. Such questions cannot be discussed in meetings which last only a few days and which are held once or twice a year. They need to have the discussions to be held in a more permanent manner. They may require either prolonged meetings or the establishment of forums which hold meetings in permanent sessions. The Follow-up Committee, while looking into the question of follow-up mechanism, may also look into the question of further institutionalization of the COMCEC.

On the other hand, meetings held at the level of senior officials should not be regarded as a substitute to the ministerial level meetings. There is no doubt that they both have their important roles in the strategy of cooperation activities.

Distinguished Delegates,

Regarding the results of the efforts you have made in various areas of economic cooperation, I would like to point out my conviction that the results so far obtained are consistent with our expectations.

The progress achieved in the establishment of a Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme has given all of us an immense source of satisfaction. The time it took from conception to actual operation is less than three years. This is an unprecedented progress for a multi-national cooperation project involving as many as 45 countries. Especially when we take into consideration the relatively low cost of this project to the member countries as compared to the advantages it will provide to them, one may conclude that with political will, imagination and dedicated efforts there is always room for further improvement.

The question of the establishment of a system of trade preferences among the member countries of the Organization of Islamic Conference is another project in which we are making considerable progress. The Declaration that you have decided to consider is an important step forward. It took much longer time for other international fora to arrive at the same stage we reached in two years' time. This cannot solely be explained by the fact that we have of course benefited from the experience of other international fora. An equally, if not more, important factor is the dedication of the member countries of the Organization of the Islamic Conference to positively respond to the need for cooperation.

The other projects on which you considered progress reports namely the Multilateral Islamic Clearing Union, Regional Export Credit Guarantee Scheme, Trade Information Network are all progressing satisfactorily.

I would like to underline an important feature of our cooperation. The Member Countries are free to decide whether they wish to join any project chosen. In other words, if certain projects do not offer any advantage or interest to some Member Countries they may simply decline to participate in it. This common characteristic of the projects has most probably contributed a lot to their success.

Distinguished Delegates,

The present, meeting of the COMCEC was held concurrently with another important ministerial meeting, namely the meeting of the Ministers of Transport. Concrete projects will be worked out in due course by the Follow-up Committee or expert level meetings in areas pertaining to the cooperation in the field of transport that distinguished Ministers of Transport have given emphasis during the present meeting.

Steady progress achieved in agricultural and industrial cooperation and recorded in the report of the Follow-up Committee was also noted during the present, meeting.

Distinguished Delegates,

Before concluding I would like to thank you once more for your efforts and contributions to the success of the meeting.

I would like to ask you to convey to the brotherly Heads of State and peoples of your respective countries the most sincere greetings of myself and the Turkish people and I wish you all a very happy and safe journey back to your countries.
